Dryer Vent Cleaning Blueprint

One Simple Safety Service. Recurring Income. Every Home Needs It.

- 1 Why This Service Sells Itself
- 2 The Equipment, The Process, and The Proof
- 3 Building a Route of Annual Recurring Clients

$120/hr

Effective rate on a standard dryer vent cleaning

45–75 minutes per job · Annual recurring · Safety service that almost nobody declines once they understand the risk

TRIED AND TESTED

Dryer vent fires cause over 15,000 house fires annually in the United States alone. The cause in almost every case is a clogged dryer vent that the homeowner did not know needed cleaning. Lint accumulates silently over years, restricts airflow, causes the dryer to overheat, and eventually ignites. The recommended cleaning interval is every 12–18 months. Most homeowners have never had it done. That gap is your business.

CHAPTER ONE

Why This Service Sells Itself

1 The safety pitch writes itself

'Your dryer vent should be cleaned every 12-18 months to prevent fire risk. Most homeowners have never had it done. I clean it professionally in under an hour for $75-$150 and send you before and after photos.' Almost nobody says no to a safety service with a clear risk attached to skipping it.

2 The annual recurring model

Every client you serve becomes an annual recurring client. Book the same visit every 12 months. Send a reminder text 2 weeks before: 'Hi, it has been 12 months since your last dryer vent cleaning. Want to book this year's service?' Retention rate on this service exceeds 85% because the safety need never goes away.

CHAPTER TWO

The Equipment, The Process, and The Proof

1 Tools required

Flexible dryer vent cleaning rod kit with drill attachment — $25-$45 on Amazon. This extends through the full length of the vent duct, rotating to scrub lint from the walls. Vacuum with hose attachment — shop vac or standard with crevice tool. Screwdriver to disconnect the vent from the dryer. Total equipment investment: under $75.

2 The cleaning process

Disconnect dryer from vent · Run rod kit through full length of duct from both ends · Vacuum all loosened lint from duct and dryer connection point · Reconnect vent securely · Run dryer for 5 minutes and confirm airflow at exterior vent cap is strong and clear · Photograph the lint removed as proof of service

CHAPTER THREE

Building a Route of Annual Recurring Clients

1

Client acquisition

Caribbean community WhatsApp and Facebook groups for warm first clients. Nextdoor for neighborhood reach. Door hangers on streets you are already working: 'I just cleaned the dryer vent at [neighbour address] — dryer vent fires are the #1 preventable home fire. Annual cleaning from $85. Call [number].'

2

Partnering with property managers

Property management companies are responsible for the safety of every unit they manage. A property manager with 50 units who hires you for annual dryer vent cleaning on all 50 is a $4,250–$7,500 annual contract from one relationship. Pitch them on the liability protection angle — they are legally responsible for preventable fires in units they manage.

BUILD YOUR BUSINESS WEBSITE – PERSONAL NOTE

While all the steps in this guide work to get your first clients through community outreach, A booking page for your dryer vent cleaning service — with a clear explanation of the fire risk, your pricing, and an annual reminder signup — converts concerned homeowners into automatic annual clients. I found it significantly easier to use Lovable — an AI site builder where you describe what you want and it builds a clean professional site in minutes. No coding. Check it out.
