INCOME BENCHMARKS

$150–$300 per residential job · commercial storefronts $75–$150/month recurring · 30 accounts = $3,000–$4,500/month · Caribbean homeowners book semi-annually · commercial clients pay monthly

Why Window Cleaning Is a Perfect Recurring Service Business

Clean windows. Regular schedule. Caribbean homeowners and businesses pay every month.

Window cleaning is one of the few service businesses where the customer knows exactly when they need you again. Residential clients book semi-annually — once in spring and once in fall. Commercial clients book monthly — their storefront windows must be spotless every week or every two weeks to maintain their professional appearance. That predictability is your scheduling and income advantage. A fully developed window cleaning route has guaranteed income before you pick up a single squeegee on Monday morning.

$4,000/mo

30 commercial accounts avg $135/month · residential adds $1,500+/month · Caribbean storefronts are your warmest commercial clients · referral rate near 100%

Why Caribbean Businesses Are Your Best First Commercial Accounts

Caribbean restaurants, Caribbean hair salons, Caribbean boutiques, and Caribbean community businesses maintain high standards for their storefront appearance. A Caribbean business owner who lets their windows go grimy is not living up to the community standard they hold themselves to. When a trusted Caribbean professional offers monthly window cleaning at a fair price, the yes comes quickly. And Caribbean business owners who know each other refer without being asked — one Caribbean salon client generates two more within a month.

What makes this business predictable

Recurring commercial accounts pay monthly whether or not you actively market. A route of 30 commercial accounts at $135/month is $4,050 before you book a single residential job — guaranteed, scheduled income that arrives every month.

What makes it easy to start

A professional window cleaning kit costs under $200. No license required in most jurisdictions. No vehicle larger than a car with a ladder rack needed to start. Your first 10 residential jobs pay for all your equipment.

CARIBBEAN EARNER PRINCIPLE

Jamaica's tourism industry built its reputation on one standard: every surface the visitor touches or sees must be immaculate. Caribbean business owners in the diaspora carry that same standard. A spotless storefront window communicates the same pride and professionalism that built Caribbean hospitality into a global industry. You are the professional who maintains that standard every month.

Equipment — Everything You Need for Under $300

Squeegees, scrubbers, poles, water-fed systems, and the ladder setup.

Professional window cleaning requires a small, specific set of tools. The quality of your tools directly determines the quality of your results — do not use consumer-grade tools for professional work. Ettore and Unger are the professional window cleaning brands used by commercial operators worldwide. Invest in professional tools from your first day.

Tool	Brand/Type	Cost	Purpose
Squeegee — 12 inch	Ettore or Unger	$15–$25	Primary cleaning tool
Squeegee — 18 inch	Ettore or Unger	$20–$30	Large commercial windows
Scrubber/applicator — 14 inch	Ettore or Unger	$15–$20	Apply soapy water
Extension pole — 6 ft	Ettore or Unger	$25–$40	Second-story access
Bucket — 6 gallon	Standard	$10–$15	Cleaning solution
Dish soap (Dawn) or professional solution	Professional window soap	$10–$20	Cleaning solution
Microfiber cloths (12 pack)	Any brand	$10–$15	Detailing and edges
Rubber gloves	Any brand	$5–$8	Hand protection
Ladder — 6 ft A-frame + 12 ft extension	Werner or Louisville	$80–$150	Second-story access
Ladder rack for car/truck	ROLA or similar	$60–$120	Transport
TOTAL STARTER KIT		$250–$440

WATER-FED POLE SYSTEM — YOUR GROWTH UPGRADE

A water-fed pole system (DI water pole) uses purified water pumped through a carbon fiber pole with a brush head to clean windows up to 3–4 stories without a ladder. Cost: $300–$800 for a starter system. A water-fed pole allows you to bid on and win commercial office building contracts that solo ladder operators cannot safely serve. Buy this after your first $2,000 in window cleaning revenue — it opens an entirely new income tier.

Residential vs Commercial — Understanding Both Markets

Houses vs storefronts vs office buildings — how to price and serve each.

Residential and commercial window cleaning are two different businesses that use the same skills and tools. Residential jobs pay more per visit but happen less frequently (twice per year). Commercial jobs pay less per visit but happen every month or week — creating the recurring income that makes your business predictable. Build both simultaneously from day one.

Residential Window Cleaning

A standard 3-bedroom Caribbean home has 15–25 windows. Interior and exterior cleaning takes 2–4 hours. Price: $150–$300 depending on window count, size, and second-story access. Caribbean homeowners who book you in spring for pre-summer cleaning book you again in fall for pre-winter cleaning without being asked — especially if you send a reminder. Semi-annual residential clients are 2x revenue from one client relationship with zero additional acquisition cost.

Commercial Window Cleaning

A Caribbean restaurant storefront with 4–6 large windows takes 30–45 minutes to clean. Monthly service: $75–$150. A small office building with 20 ground-floor windows takes 2–3 hours. Monthly service: $200–$400. Commercial cleaning happens during business off-hours (early morning or evening) and requires reliability above all else — a commercial client whose windows are not cleaned on the scheduled day will cancel and find someone else immediately.

Client Type	Job Size	Frequency	Monthly Value
Small residential home	15–20 windows	2x/year ($200 avg)	$33/month avg
Large residential home	25–35 windows	2x/year ($275 avg)	$46/month avg
Caribbean storefront	4–8 windows	Monthly	$100–$150/month
Restaurant (exterior only)	6–10 windows	Monthly	$100–$175/month
Small office building	20–30 windows	Monthly	$200–$350/month
Strip mall (10 units)	40–60 windows	Monthly	$400–$600/month

Building Your Route — From 10 Clients to 50

How to structure a recurring route that pays $3,000+/month.

Your route is your most valuable business asset. A well-structured route minimizes drive time between jobs, maximizes jobs per day, and creates predictable daily and weekly income. Build it geographically — cluster clients by neighborhood and schedule each neighborhood on a specific day of the week.

1

Geographic Clustering — Time Is Income

Group all clients within a 10-minute driving radius into the same route day. Monday: Caribbean commercial district (5–8 storefronts). Tuesday: residential neighborhood A (3–4 homes). Wednesday: residential neighborhood B (3–4 homes). Thursday: office park route (2–3 buildings). Friday: restaurant route (4–6 restaurants). This structure eliminates cross-city driving and allows you to complete 6–10 jobs per day efficiently.

2

The Monthly Commercial Route — Your Income Foundation

Target 20 commercial accounts as your first milestone. At $130/month average per commercial account, 20 accounts = $2,600/month in guaranteed recurring revenue. These are accounts you visit on a fixed schedule — the same Caribbean restaurant every second Tuesday at 7am, the same strip mall every first Monday. The routine is the security. Never deviate from the schedule without advance notice to the client.

3

Residential Semi-Annual — Your Seasonal Boost

20 residential clients at $225 average, serviced twice per year, generate $4,500 in additional semi-annual revenue — $750/month when averaged. Contact all residential clients in March for spring cleaning and in September for fall cleaning. A text message reminder with your availability calendar converts 80% of previous clients to repeat bookings without any selling required.

4

Route Efficiency Targets

Experienced window cleaner target: 8–12 windows per hour exterior, 5–8 windows per hour interior. A 4-hour commercial morning route should generate $180–$300 in revenue. If your hourly output is below $45/hour, identify whether the issue is slow squeegee technique (practice), inefficient setup (pre-fill your bucket before arriving), or excessive drive time (re-cluster your route geographically).

Getting Your First Clients — Caribbean Community First

Where Caribbean homeowners and businesses are and how to land your first accounts.

Your fastest path to a full route is the Caribbean business and residential community you already belong to. Caribbean storefronts are your warmest commercial leads. Caribbean neighborhoods are your most referral-active residential markets. Start there before you approach any non-community clients.

Walk Into Caribbean Storefronts — The Direct Commercial Pitch

Walk into every Caribbean restaurant, salon, boutique, and business in your area on a quiet weekday morning. Ask for the owner: 'I offer monthly window cleaning for Caribbean businesses in the area — your exterior windows cleaned once a month for $100. I am available to start this week. Can I show you a quick demonstration right now?' Do a 5-minute demonstration on one window. The result closes the account.

2

Caribbean Residential Facebook Groups — Semi-Annual Offer

Post in Caribbean community groups in March and September: 'Caribbean homeowners — spring window cleaning available in [area] this weekend. Interior and exterior, all windows, starting at $150 for a standard 3-bedroom. Before-and-after photos from last weekend's jobs below. DM me to book your slot.' March and September are your peak residential booking months — aggressive community group posting in these windows fills your residential calendar for the full season.

3

Real Estate Agent Partnership — Pre-Listing Cleans

Real estate agents need spotless windows before listing photos are taken. Caribbean real estate agents listing Caribbean homes are your most reliable referral partners. A pre-listing window clean at $200–$350 is built into the staging budget — the agent refers you without hesitation because clean windows directly improve listing photos and perceived property value. One agent relationship generates 6–12 pre-listing jobs per year.

YOUR BUSINESS WEBSITE — PERSONAL NOTE

A professional website converts prospects who find you online into paying clients without a single cold call. I found it significantly easier to use Lovable — an AI site builder where you describe what you want and it builds a professional site in minutes. No coding required. caribstream.io/lovable

REMOTE OS PRO — RUN YOUR OPERATION

Remote OS Pro manages your recurring commercial route schedule, sends automated reminder texts to residential clients before their semi-annual service, tracks route efficiency metrics, and handles monthly invoicing for all commercial accounts automatically. Client management, recurring service scheduling, automated reporting, and invoicing — all in one system. Setup fee $297 · Software access $1,999 · $500/month. No trial. No refunds. All sales final. caribstream.io/remoteOS-7X4k9mQ2

Scaling to a Full Window Cleaning Company

Hiring, water-fed poles, high-rise access, and commercial building contracts.

A solo window cleaner at full capacity handles 25–35 commercial accounts and 20–30 semi-annual residential clients — generating $4,000–$6,000/month. The next level requires a trained employee, a second vehicle, and water-fed pole equipment that opens high-rise commercial contracts unavailable to ladder-only operators.

- 1

Hire Your First Window Cleaner
Train a reliable person to your exact squeegee technique and route standards. Pay $15–$18/hour. Assign them your established residential route — you focus on new commercial account acquisition. With a trained employee handling residential and you handling commercial upsells, your monthly revenue grows without proportionally growing your personal work hours.
- 2

Water-Fed Pole System — Open the High-Rise Market
A professional water-fed pole system ($800–$2,000) allows your team to clean windows on buildings up to 4–5 stories from the ground — safely, efficiently, and at significantly higher rates than ground-floor work. A 4-story office building cleaned monthly with a water-fed system: $600–$1,200/month. This single equipment investment opens commercial contracts that generate more monthly revenue than your entire current residential client base.
- 3

Commercial Building Management Companies
Property management companies that manage office parks, retail centers, and commercial buildings need reliable window cleaning contractors for their entire portfolio. One property management relationship can generate 5–15 commercial buildings on your cleaning schedule. Approach commercial property managers with your portfolio, your insurance certificate, and your water-fed pole capability. This is the highest-value business development conversation in the window cleaning industry.

Scale	Accounts	Monthly Revenue	Net (60% margin)
Solo — mixed route	20 commercial + 15 res	$3,500–$5,000	$2,100–$3,000

Solo + employee	35 commercial + 25 res	$6,000–$8,500	$3,600–$5,100
2 employees + water-fed	50+ commercial	$10,000–$16,000	$6,000–$9,600
Team + building mgmt	Portfolio contracts	$18,000–$30,000	$10,800–$18,000

CARIBBEAN EARNER PRINCIPLE

The Cayman Islands built a trillion-dollar financial services industry on one reputation: you can trust us completely with what matters most to you. Your window cleaning business builds the same reputation one spotless window at a time. Arrive on schedule. Clean every pane perfectly. Bill exactly what you quoted. That consistency, repeated across 30 commercial accounts every month, builds a business that your clients would never replace.

Clean Windows. Build the Route. Collect Every Month.

Every Caribbean storefront with grimy windows is a monthly account waiting to be signed. Every Caribbean homeowner who wants their home sparkling before summer is a semi-annual booking. Every property management company with 10 buildings is a portfolio contract that changes your income ceiling. Start with one squeegee and one account. Build from there.

YOUR FIRST 30-DAY ACTION PLAN

Week 1 — Equipment and first demonstrations

Buy your professional starter kit. Walk into 5 Caribbean storefronts Monday morning. Demonstrate on one window each. Target 3 signed monthly accounts this week.

Week 2 — Residential bookings

Post in Caribbean Facebook groups. Offer semi-annual residential bookings for spring season. Target 5 residential jobs in week 2.

Week 3 — Route structure

Map all existing clients geographically. Assign each to a route day. Complete first monthly commercial visits. Ask every client for one referral.

Week 4 — Real estate partnership

Contact 2 Caribbean real estate agents about pre-listing window cleaning. Set up your booking page at caribstream.io/lovable.
