Young Boss Holiday Decorating Guide

How Caribbean Kids Turn Every Season Into a Payday

1

Why Holiday Decorating Pays More Than You Think

One Saturday. One home. $350-$1,000+.

2

What You Need and How to Get Set Up

Minimal equipment. Maximum visual impact.

3

Getting Clients, Pricing, and Building a Repeat Route

The same homes. Every year. Without reselling.

REAL SKILLS. REAL INCOME. NO HYPE.

This guide was built for Caribbean children abroad who are serious about building real income with real work. No fluff. No theory. Just the steps that work.

Why Holiday Decorating Pays More Than You Think

One Saturday. One home. $350-$1,000+.

Christmas lights on a two-story home. Garland on every railing. Wreaths on every door. Lights on the bushes and trees. A Caribbean homeowner who wants their home to look like the ones on TV will pay $350 to $1,000 for someone to make it happen — and they will call you again every single year.

1 The numbers per job

$350-$500 for a standard residential exterior. $600-$1,000 for a large or luxury home. $150-$300 for interior decorating. Takes 3-5 hours.
Effective rate: $75-$200 per hour.

2 Caribbean community celebrations go beyond Christmas

Christmas, Easter, Carnival, Diwali, Independence Day celebrations for specific islands, graduation parties, block parties — every Caribbean household celebrates more than the average household. That means more decoration jobs per year than any other community segment.

YOUNG BOSS TRUTH

Decorate It. Charge It. Stack It. And come back in January to take it all down for another fee.

What You Need and How to Get Set Up

Minimal equipment. Maximum visual impact.

The secret to this business is using the right hanging tools so setup and takedown are fast, clean, and damage-free.

1 Gutter and siding clips

The professional's secret. These clips attach lights to gutters and siding without nails, ladders, or damage. A pack of 100 costs $8-$12. Makes setup 3x faster and leaves zero holes in the home.

2 Extension ladder (share or borrow first)

You need a 16-20ft ladder for most residential jobs. Before buying, borrow from a family member for your first few jobs. Once income starts, a quality ladder is your best investment at $150-$250.

3 Extension cords (heavy duty, outdoor rated)

Minimum 100ft heavy-duty outdoor extension cord. $25-$40. Never use indoor cords for exterior lights — safety first, always.

4 Your lighting inventory (optional)

Some clients supply their own lights. Others pay you to supply them. If you supply lights, mark them up 20-30% above your cost. Keep receipts and charge accordingly.

Book your Christmas jobs in October. The best clients fill their calendars early. Late November bookings are your overflow — October is your main season.

CHAPTER THREE

Getting Clients, Pricing, and Building a Repeat Route

The same homes. Every year. Without reselling.

Holiday decorating has one extraordinary advantage over almost every other service — the same client books you every single year. A family that hired you last Christmas and loved the result does not shop around next year. They call you in October and you are already booked.

1 Pricing structure

Standard residential exterior (string lights, basic display): $350–$500 · Premium exterior (multi-level, trees, bushes): $600–$1,000 · Interior decorating (living room, mantle, staircase): $150–$300 · Takedown service (January): Same price as setup or slightly less

2 Marketing that works

Post before and after photos on Nextdoor, Caribbean Facebook groups, and Instagram after every job. One stunning photo of a beautifully lit Caribbean home at night generates more bookings than any paid ad. Ask every satisfied client to share the photo and tag your business name.

YOUNG BOSS TRUTH

Offer a 10% discount to clients who rebook for next year before you leave. Lock in your route for next season while you are still standing in their driveway.

BUILD YOUR BUSINESS WEBSITE – PERSONAL NOTE

While all the steps in this guide work to get your first clients through community outreach, A simple booking page where clients can request a quote, see your available dates, and pay a deposit online turns a seasonal hustle into a professional operation that books out weeks in advance. I found it significantly easier to use Lovable — an AI-powered site builder where you describe what you want and it builds a professional site in minutes. No coding. No templates to wrestle with. Check it out for yourself.
