- 2 The Technical Skills That Separate Good from Great

$120/hr

Average effective rate on closet system installations

$250–$1,500 per closet · 2–8 hours depending on complexity · Luxury clients pay premium for perfection

TRIED AND TESTED

The closet system installation business sits at the intersection of home improvement and luxury. A homeowner who has just purchased a $600–$1,200 Container Store or IKEA PAX closet system wants it installed perfectly — level, secure, and exactly as shown in the showroom. They will pay $250–$1,500 for professional installation because the cost of getting it wrong — misaligned holes, unstable shelving, wasted materials — is too high to risk.

CHAPTER ONE

The Closet System Market and Your Opportunity

1 The systems you will install

IKEA PAX wardrobe systems — the most common flat-pack closet in diaspora homes · Container Store Elfa systems — premium wall-mounted adjustable shelving · California Closets-style custom systems — highest ticket · Basic wire shelving upgrades — quickest jobs · Walk-in closet full transformations — highest margin

2 Pricing by complexity

Basic wire shelving replacement: $150-$250 · IKEA PAX single unit: $200-$350 · IKEA PAX multi-unit system: $350-$600 · Elfa or premium wall-mounted system: $500-$1,000 · Full walk-in closet transformation: $800-$1,500

CHAPTER TWO

The Technical Skills That Separate Good from Great

1 Measuring and planning

Measure the closet space three times before ordering or cutting anything. Wall dimensions, ceiling height, floor levelness, and outlet locations all affect the installation plan. Document everything before you start. Surprises mid-installation cost time and money.

2 Anchoring into different wall types

Drywall with stud backing — your preferred anchor point. Metal studs — require specific toggle bolts. Plaster walls — require masonry anchors. Concrete — requires hammer drill and concrete anchors. Know your wall type before you start drilling. Wrong anchors on a fully loaded closet system is a safety issue, not just an aesthetic one.

CHAPTER THREE

Luxury Clients and the Premium Market

1 Where the real money is

Caribbean luxury homeowners, second homeowners, and high-income professionals who are doing full home renovations want closet systems that look magazine-worthy. They spend $1,000–$3,000 on the system itself and have no hesitation paying $500–$1,500 for installation that matches their investment. Approach interior designers, real estate agents, and home staging companies for referrals into this market.

2 The referral chain in luxury markets

One luxury closet installation leads to: the master bedroom closet referral, then the secondary bedroom, then the garage storage system, then the pantry organization, then the laundry room. A single luxury homeowner client can generate $4,000–$8,000 in sequential installations across their home over one year.

BUILD YOUR BUSINESS WEBSITE – PERSONAL NOTE

While all the steps in this guide work to get your first clients through community outreach, A portfolio page showing your best closet transformations — dramatic before and after photos, your pricing guide, and a booking form — is the most effective marketing tool for reaching homeowners who have already purchased their closet system and are looking for a professional to install it. I found it significantly easier to use Lovable — an AI site builder where you describe what you want and it builds a clean professional site in minutes. No coding. Check it out.
