CHAPTER ONE

The Three Party Entertainment Services That Pay

Nerf battles. Treasure hunts. Outdoor movies. One business.

Caribbean families spend serious money on children's birthday parties. The average Caribbean parent invests $500–$2,000 on a child's birthday celebration. The entertainment is the centerpiece of that investment. A professional party entertainer who shows up with a complete Nerf battle setup, a custom treasure hunt, and an outdoor movie screening capability commands $300–$600 per booking and gets referred to every parent at the party before the cake is even cut.

1Nerf Battle Zone — $150-$250 per event

You supply 10–20 Nerf guns, safety glasses, foam dart ammunition, and obstacle course setup using folding tables and covers. Party lasts 45–60 minutes of active play. Parents love it because it exhausts the children, keeps them fully engaged, and requires zero effort from the host. Startup equipment cost: $150–$300. Reusable indefinitely.

2Treasure Hunt Experience — $100-$200 per event

Custom treasure hunt with Caribbean-themed clues, a hand-drawn map, and a prize chest. You create the clues based on the birthday child's interests, hide them around the venue before guests arrive, and run the hunt as the host. Takes 30–45 minutes. Materials cost under $30. Pure creative and presentation value.

3Outdoor Movie Night — $200-$350 per event

Portable projector ($80–$150), a white sheet or portable screen ($30–$50), a Bluetooth speaker, and a streaming device. Set up in any backyard after dark. Caribbean families love this for evening birthday parties, graduation celebrations, and community events. The visual impact is enormous for the cost.

Pricing Your Packages and Booking Your First Clients

Bundle the services. Price for the full experience.

The most effective pricing strategy in party entertainment is the package — not individual service pricing. Parents do not want to choose between a Nerf battle and a treasure hunt. They want to hire you for the whole afternoon.

Package pricing

Party Starter Package (Nerf battle OR treasure hunt, 2 hours): $250–$350. Party Pro Package (Nerf battle AND treasure hunt, 3 hours): $400–$500. Full Entertainment Package (all three services, full afternoon): $500–$700. Materials are included in all packages. You set up, run everything, and clean up. The parent does nothing except enjoy watching their child have the best party of their life.

2

Finding your first clients

Caribbean parenting Facebook groups and WhatsApp networks. Post with a photo: 'I offer professional party entertainment for Caribbean families — Nerf battles, treasure hunts, and outdoor movie nights. First booking at 20% off in exchange for photos and a review.' One booking. One set of photos. That is your entire marketing foundation for the first year.

Building Repeat Business and Growing Your Reputation

One great party becomes ten referrals.

Every parent at a Caribbean child's birthday party is a potential future client. The moment their child runs up to them screaming about how much fun the Nerf battle was, they are already thinking about their own child's next party. Your job during every event is to be so professional and so enjoyable to work with that booking you is the obvious choice.

1 The referral conversation

At the end of every party: 'Thank you so much for having me. If any of the other parents are interested in booking for their children's parties, I'd love for you to pass on my number.' Say it once, sincerely, and let it work. Caribbean community word of mouth travels faster than any social media algorithm.

2 Seasonal expansion

Back-to-school parties in August. Halloween parties in October. Christmas and holiday parties in December. Caribbean Independence Day and Carnival celebrations in the summer. Every season has a party. Your equipment works for all of them. Stack the bookings year-round and your party entertainment business earns in every month.

BUILD YOUR BUSINESS WEBSITE – PERSONAL NOTE

A booking page for party entertainment packages — showing your Nerf, treasure hunt, and movie night options with pricing and availability — lets parents book and pay a deposit online without a back-and-forth of messages. I found it significantly easier to use Lovable — an AI site builder where you describe what you want and it builds a professional site in minutes. No coding. Check it out.
