TRIED AND TESTED

The Caribbean community invests in good sound and a good viewing experience. A Caribbean household with a new 75-inch TV, a soundbar, a streaming device, and a game console has $2,000–$5,000 in equipment that needs to be connected, configured, and optimized properly. They will pay $150–$350 for someone to walk in, make it all work seamlessly, and leave the room looking clean.

The Home Entertainment Services That Command Premium Rates

1 What clients actually need

TV and soundbar connection and calibration: $150-$200 · Full home theater setup (receiver, speakers, subwoofer): $250-$350 · Streaming device setup (AppleTV, Firestick, Roku, PS5): $75-$100 per device · Cable and wire management: $50-$100 add-on that transforms the visual result · Caribbean-specific streaming setup (CaribbeanStream, ESPN Caribbean, FLOW): $50-$75 — a service no generic AV company offers

2 Why Caribbean clients are your premium market

A Caribbean family hosting a big game, a cricket match, or a Carnival viewing party wants the setup to be perfect. The emotional investment in the experience — and the social pressure of having the extended family come over — means they pay for quality and they tip generously for results they are proud of.

CHAPTER TWO

Cables, Inputs, and What You Must Know Before You Arrive

1

The basics

Every home entertainment setup requires understanding HDMI inputs and outputs, optical vs HDMI ARC for sound, and how streaming devices connect to smart TVs. Watch YouTube tutorials for each major TV brand and soundbar brand. Samsung, LG, Sony, and Vizio cover 80% of what you will encounter. HDMI 2.1 for 4K/120hz setups. ARC or eARC for soundbar audio passthrough.

2

Cable management makes or breaks the job

A perfectly connected entertainment system with cables hanging visibly is a $150 job. The same system with cables routed cleanly through a cable raceway or in-wall system is a $250-$300 job. Always offer cable management as an add-on and always recommend it. The visual transformation justifies the premium and generates the referral photo.

CHAPTER THREE

Commercial Expansion — Hotels, Airbnb, and Businesses

1 The commercial opportunity

Hotels, Airbnb hosts, restaurants with screen systems, and Caribbean cultural event venues all need professional AV setup and ongoing support. A Caribbean-run restaurant in your city that wants Caribbean sports channels, background music, and a proper screen system is a $400–$800 setup job plus a monthly support retainer.

2 How to approach commercial clients

Walk into Caribbean restaurants, barbershops, and community venues with a one-sentence pitch: 'I specialize in home entertainment and AV setup for Caribbean businesses — I can have your screens, sound, and Caribbean channels running professionally within a day.' Most will ask for a quote the same week.

BUILD YOUR BUSINESS WEBSITE – PERSONAL NOTE

While all the steps in this guide work to get your first clients through community outreach, A portfolio page showing before-and-after photos of your best entertainment setups — with a booking form and pricing guide — converts visitors into clients faster than any other marketing tool. I found it significantly easier to use Lovable — an AI site builder where you describe what you want and it builds a clean professional site in minutes. No coding. Check it out.
